Steve Senes was kind of a late bloomer in that he didn't start playing guitar until the age of 15. From that point on it's been rare to see him without a guitar in his hands.

Having played with various bands over the years, Steve Senes has amassed quite a large variety of styles ranging from Rock, Metal & Southern to Funk, R&B and Soul - with hints of Latin, Jazz, even a Classical moment or two. This diversity is especially evident on Steve's soon to be released solo instrumental CD, "dE-eVolution oF thEorY".

Several years of 300+ gigs a year has solidified Steve as a guy who not only just loves to play, but to an artist who craves the stage seven days a week. So far, Steve's definitive accomplishment is being named Guitar Player Magazine's Guitar Superstar 2009. Steve uses Voodoo Amplifiers.
